The Lush Life

KELLY'S sprawling property boasts five bedrooms and seven bathrooms.

KELLY ROWLAND has dropped a small fortune on a modern farmhouse in Los Angeles and we got the grand tour! The singer's style perfectly straddles the line between cosy neutrals and laidback basics and the more dialed-up glamorous pieces we were expecting – just check out the gilded dining room. She shares her new residence with her husband-manager Tim Witherspoon and three-year-old son, Titan. Maybe Kelly will invite her former Destiny's Child bandmates to stop by...

Clean And Contemporary

PICS: ORION / RTI / FOTOLIA

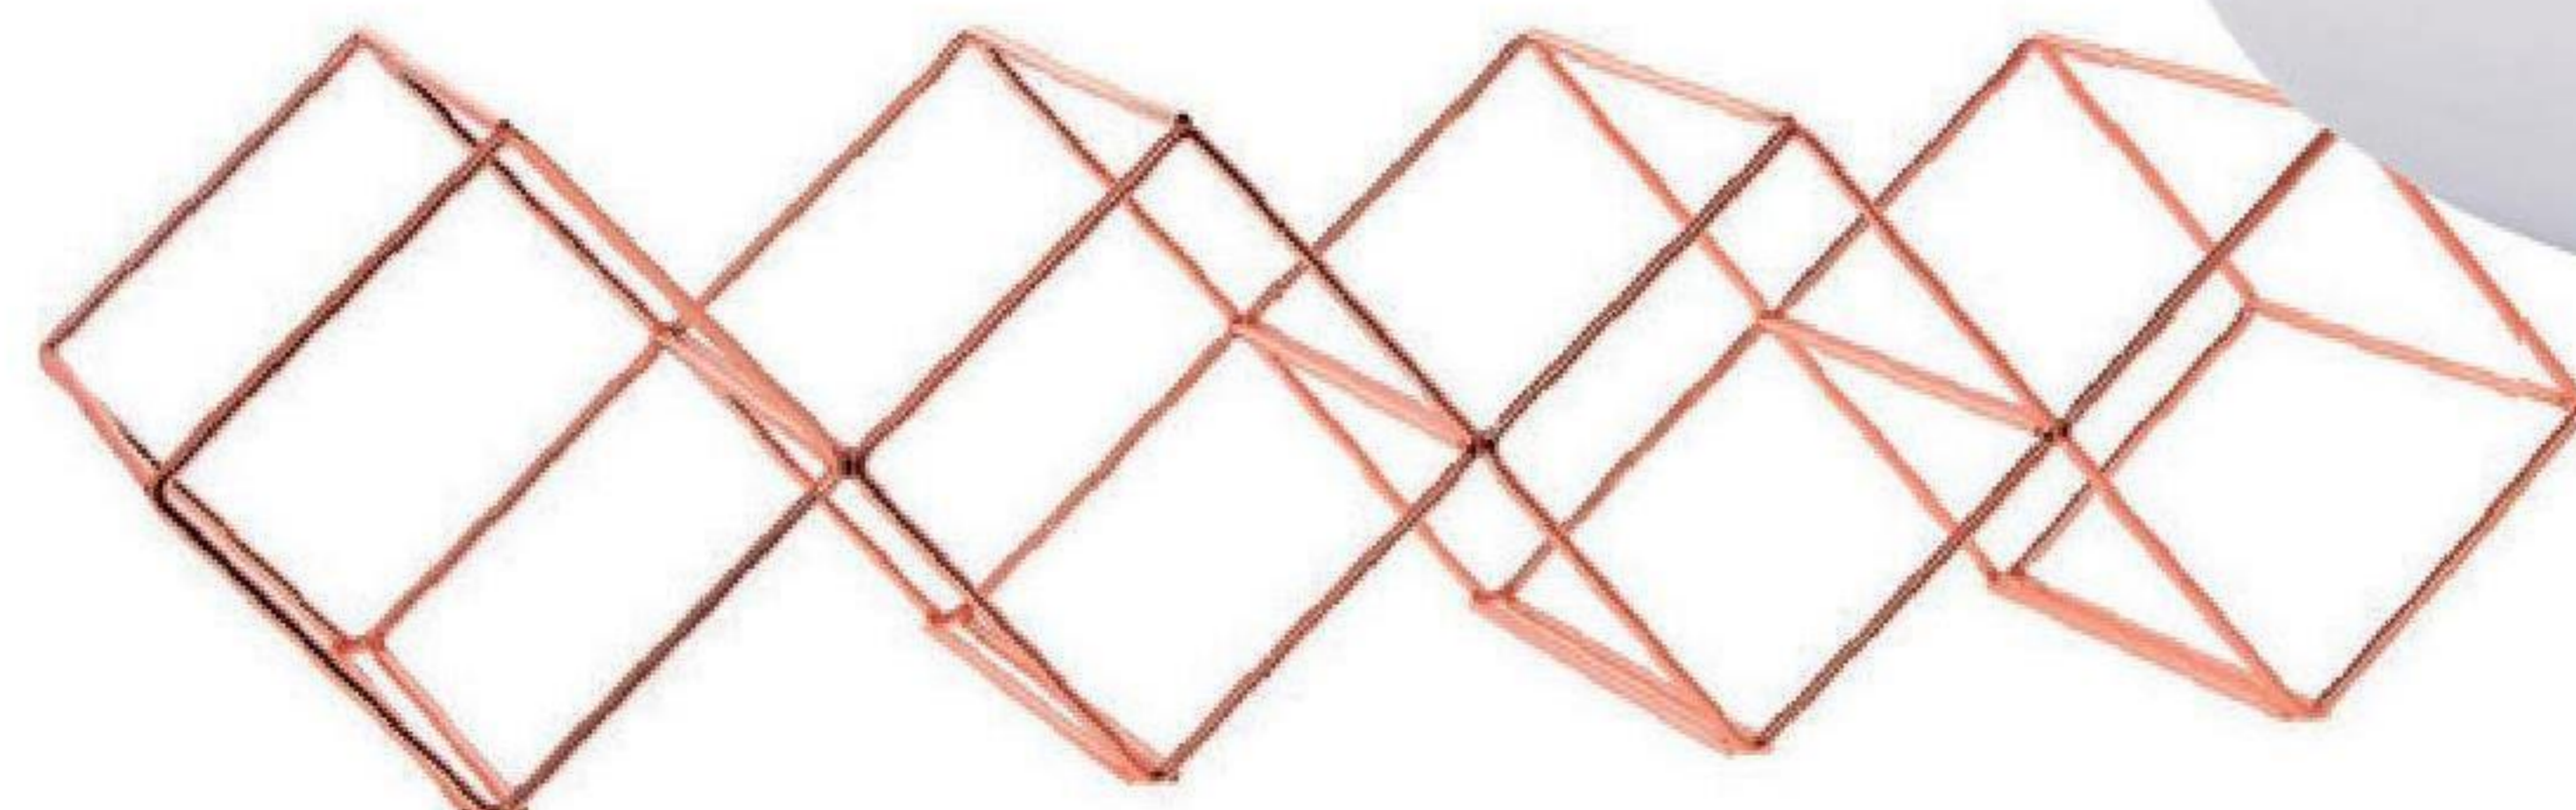

DRESSED completely in white, Kelly's kitchen boasts an oversized quartz stone island (that serves as both a dining area as well as a workspace), top-of-the-line stainless steel appliances, modern gold barstools and simple white cabinets mingling with glossy white subway tiles. The dark wood floors bring contrast to the white kitchen, but keep the pristine appearance of this light and airy room. A breakfast nook counts among the many entertainment areas throughout the home.
